

Following Ireland's exit from the EU/IMF Programme, what lies in store? How will increased coordination between EU Member States have an impact on Ireland's policies? On Friday, 28 March 2014, the European Commission Representation in Ireland will host a Conference addressing these and other questions. The Conference will offer you a unique opportunity to become familiar with the new economic governance rules.

08.30am	Registration and Networking
09.00am	Opening Session
	Brian Hayes TD, Minister of State for Public Service Reform and the Office of Public Works
	Catherine Day, Secretary General, European Commission
	Question & Answer Session
	Session Chair: Barbara Nolan, Head of the European Commission Representation in Ireland
10.00am	Session 1 - The future of Ireland's Economic Governance
	Session Chair: Martin Murphy, MD, Hewlett-Packard
	John McCarthy, Chief Economist of the Department of Finance
	John McHale, Chair, Fiscal Advisory Council
	Independent TD Stephen Donnelly
	Question & Answer Session
11.15am	Coffee Break
11.45am	Session 2 - Stakeholder views on post-troika Ireland
	Session Chair: Geraldine Byrne Nason, Second Secretary General, Department of the Taoiseach
	Professor Frances Ruane, Director, Economic and Social Research Institute (ESRI)
	David Begg, General Secretary, ICTU
	Danny McCoy, CEO, IBEC
	Question & Answer Session
1.00pm	Lunch
2.00pm	Session 3 - Good Governance: Applying lessons learned in Ireland & Europe
	Session Chair: Sean Whelan, RTE
	Pat McArdle, Economist
	Stephen Kinsella, Senior Lecturer in Economics, Limerick University
	John Berrigan, Director, DG for Economic and Financial Affairs, European Commission
	Question & Answer Session
3.15pm	Rapporteur's Wrap-up: Peter Clinch, Vice-President for Innovation, UCD
3.30pm	Event ends